AMONG THE PLAYER FOLK.

The Green-Eyed Monster in the Kendal Company.

Bowery Thrillers Making a Hit in Merrie England.

The green-eyed monster has penetrated very musingly into the ranks of the Kendal company, and "Othello" has been acted behind scenes, with Herbert Catheart, stage manager, as Othello; Mrs. Herbert Catheart. a pretty little mineteen-year-old girl, Desdemons, and Business Manager Busted as lago. It appears that Mrs. Catheart, whose with the Kendais, grew lonely. Generally she the mind school, but I can beat all this by Kedals are lovely, but they are rather filling at the price. At least fix, Catheart asking ago in Columbus, Ga., says a writer in the Boaton Globy.

It is still be would get her seat for other theaters the side of the would get her seat for other theaters. He side he would get her seat for other theaters that the was very pretty—he must have known, for he is not blind—yet, his had nothing and the price. One night, for he is not blind—yet, his had nothing of many the to known are made to lago Husted and remarked, "Say, I won't have it." Mr. Husted was hoping around if the the work of the work formance, but even this grew monotonous. The prise a woman's voice asked, "What is it?"
Mr. Husted thought he recognized the tones of Mrs. Cathcart, and asked her to open the door. "I can't get out," she said, "Herbert has gone away, and he has taken the key. I don't know when he will be back." Mr. Husted walked thoughtfully away, and the truth dawned upon him. Cathcart had put his wile under lock and key.

The woman looked at me pittifully noded her head and then left me, as I thought, for the night.

In about thirty minutes, however, she returned with a yard-stick in her hand, saying: "I went across the street to Mr. Watkins's. I told him you were a little cripple, likely to die, and you wanted a coffin. He said if you would take one without paint and if he could squeeze you into a boy's size he would let you have one for $5."

With that she laid the yard-stick on and remarked: "It will take 5 feet 2 inches."

pearing in England, and the indications are that they will make money there. One English writer gives "On the Frontier" much attention. He begins by making a gnastly typical joke: "I don't know squeeze me into that "boy's size, withwast the play was called on the front was the play was called on the front was the play was called on the front was the way I a gnastly typical joke: "I don't know what the play was cailed on the front iter, but at the back of the crele it was called an elegant assortment of names." Then he save that the "correct representation of the Custer massacre" is entirely different from the "exact representation" presented by Bison Bill. After which he winds up by the helief that it will carry away a pretty pite of English money.

"King Kaliko," the Sandwich Island opera that is to be done at the Academy, will be discreetly costumed. Frank Dupree, the author, says that native attire will not be used, adding, for the benefit of those that don't know, that native attire consists of a wide and comprehensive grin, with a handsome bean uccince. There are so many foreigners in the Sandwiches that it will be easy to get picturesque dresses.
